

A. MOORE, Jr.
PRESIDENT.

JNO. R. NUNN, CASHIER.

JAS. W. LUKE,
ASS'T CASHIER.

Bank of Clarke County, Va.

Berryville, Va. July 15-1882

W. H. Cobb, Acting Lupt

U. S. Mint - Philadelphia

Office

Your telegram received we will ship coppers by first express -

It is natural for mistakes to occur, but it does seem to me that as we ordered nickles, and they were not sent you would, immediately after your attention was called to the error, ship the nickles - having been paid for them, and upon proper notification we would have returned the coppers.

It looks as if you were 1730 afraid to trust us, and I feel like reminding you that all the honesty in the country is not locked up in your Vaults or in the bosoms of the officials of the Mint.

Respectfully to

J. R. Dunn

Cas

Berryville, Va.

July 15, 1892

Bank of Blanket Co.

Will ship Copper
by first-Express

Bank of Clarke County, VA
Berryville, VA

July 15, 1892

Mr. H. Cobb, Acting Superintendent
U. S. Mint
Philadelphia

Dear Sir

Your telegram received. We will ship coppers by first express.

It is natural for mistakes to occur, but it does seem to me that as we ordered nickels, and they were not sent you would, immediately after your attention was called to the error, ship the nickels – having been paid for them, and upon proper notification we would have returned the coppers.

It looks as if you were afraid to trust us, and I feel like reminding you that all the honesty in the country is not locked up in your vaults or in the bosoms of the officials of the Mint.

Respectfully, etc.
J. R. Nunn,
Cashier

[Abstract]
Berryville, VA
July 15, 1892

Bank of Clarke Co.

Will ship coppers by first express

[Editor's Note: Mr. Nunn refers to current bronze one-cent pieces by their colloquial name "coppers." Mr. Cobb was Mark H. Cobb, Chief Clerk of the Philadelphia Mint.]